

City of Fairfield Bay Animal Emergency Response Team

ANIMAL RESPONSE TEAM VOLUNTEER REGISTRATION FORM

- What is a City Animal Response Team?

The City of FFB Animal Response Team (ART) is comprised of community members who are dedicated to animal welfare and work together with animal health care professionals and other government and non-government agencies in helping the community prepare for, mitigate (lessen the intensity of), respond to, and recover from emergencies, disasters, and subsequent animal health issues, by having a group of properly credentialed and trained volunteers and resources available and ready should the need arise.

- Who can be a member?

Anyone age 18 or older can be a full team member. Special jobs and tasks can be developed for Junior Team members who are under the age of 18 with the written consent and co-participation of their parent or legal guardian.

- What is required to be a team member?

All team members must apply by completing this form and submitting it for review by the ART Leader and the ART Volunteer Coordinator. If approved, additional training will be required both on-line and in person.
